

1 Just a little lie, now and then, helps to make the world go round like a lullaby gently falls like leaves to the ground

Tell a little lie

Tell a little lie and you find in a little while, that it's so easy, pretending, its only what friends are for, but ev'ry little lie will make a little some thing die in some-one's heart.

2. Wouldn't tell a lie, even though it's an easy thing to do Rather say goodbye, knowing I had tried to be true.
 Tell a little lie and you find
 In a little while that it's so easy Pretending, it's only, what friends are for, but, ev'ry little lie will make a little something die
 In some-one's heart.

Wish I'd never talked about her if I ever could have my time over a-gain

D.C. al fine
